Summary of changes made to the prototype

- All the screens are designed with navigations creating a back arrow and the users can navigate in between and change the screens according to the options they select.
- The webpages have title and it describe the page
- Search bar has been completely removed from all the pages due to complexity of items in the system.

Home page
- Sign-up page contains a back button and a create account button which allow users to navigate in between the pages
- A new button called "Start as a Guest " is added for users who wanted to check out prices of items without creating an account

Create Price list page
- Detail selections for items in the create price list page are omitted for simplicity
- Dynamic list editing is not(yet) fully functional due to limitation of the prototyping tool

Price comparison page
- The price comparison page has button called "Choose me" button to select a store and navigate to next page instead of checkboxes shown in previous prototype
- Refresh button removed in price comparison page and live updates of prices are available for users convenient. If the user needs to add more items he has to go back to previous page using the back button

Pick up option page
- The page design has been changed compared to previous design
- We note that the user selects the preferred store when he checks the prices of item in price comparison page. So based on the store he chooses the pick-up option. After he selects that button the next page shows the location of the chosen store and its hours.
- In the same page the user is allowed to change his location by clicking on "Click here to change store location or your location" button. The next available option is that the user go to payment methods page by selecting the "go to payment button".
- The page where user can change locations allows you to select the location of other stores as well and can check the locations of these stores. This page also allows you to locate your current location

Home delivery page

- Home delivery page does not contain the order box where personal information was shown just as in the previous prototype. It's been removed
- The icons for different location type change the page into different states. These pages ask the user for different information based on the type of location.